Corporate Office Centers' Welcomes New Marketing Director

Rebecca Romero Joins Corporate Office Centers' Team

San Diego (July XX, 2008) – Corporate Office Centers®, one of the nation's largest executive suite operators, recently announced the addition of Rebecca Romero as their marketing director, according to Thad Pittman, president of Corporate Office Centers®.

Romero is responsible for the overall marketing direction and branding strategies of Corporate Office Centers. She also serves as general manager of the company's San Diego location and is responsible for all aspects of sales, marketing and operations.

With more than 14 years of marketing and managerial expertise, Romero has an extensive background in the executive suite industry and has held key sales and marketing positions including area sales manager for HQ Global Workplaces.

"Rebecca is a welcomed addition to the Corporate Office Centers' team. Her extensive customer service, sales and marketing experience will keep us a national leader amongst executive office suites," said Pittman.
